

TC Restaurant Group offered a traditional Thanksgiving dinner of slow-cooked turkey, cranberries, green beans, mashed potatoes and gravy, and stuffing to first responders who stopped into FGL House on Thanksgiving day.

TC Restaurant Group offers Thanksgiving dinner to first responders at FGL House

Thanksgiving is a time when many are able to gather around a table with their friends and family, but on Nashville's busiest strip the party doesn't stop - and it's another day in the office for first responders. Hospitality Group TC Restaurant Group provided a traditional Thanksgiving meal for all police, fire fighters, and EMS workers as a token of appreciation for the long hours and their symbiotic relationship.

All first responders including police officers, fire fighters, medics, and ambulance drivers were able to stop into FGL House after 4 p.m. for a complimentary dinner.

"We couldn't do what we do without the help of our first responders," said Executive Chef Tomasz Wosiak. "No one down here could. We realize that they work hard to ensure the safety of not just our facilities but for the whole tourist community in downtown Nashville."

Wosiak said that the philosophy of the family-oriented TC Restaurant Group is to take care of their neighbors.

"It's important to us to take care of those who we work so closely with," Wosiak said. "It was our hope to give them a place to come in and rest and enjoy a meal with their coworkers."

First responders were treated to a traditional Thanksgiving meal, with turkey, cranberries, stuffing, green beans and mashed potatoes and gravy.

The FGL House is located on third avenue south and is the branded bar of the multi-platinum country music crossover duo Florida Georgia Line. It boasts an extensive menu of southern food with a California flair.

TC Restaurant Group, operates restaurant venues in multiple cities and offers eight dining and entertainment destinations for tourists and locals in the heart of downtown Nashville. Concepts include Tequila Cowboy, Wanna B's Karaoke Bar, Luigi's City Pizza, Crazy Town, Sun Diner, FGL House, Jason Aldean's Kitchen + Rooftop Bar and LUKE'S 32 BRIDGE Food + Drink.

Wosiak said the goal was to provide first responders with a place to rest and enjoy the holiday with their coworkers.